SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Emergency Food Stamp Assistance for Victims of Disasters.

OMB Number: 0584-0336.

Expiration Date: 1/31/2000.

Type of Request: Reinstatement with a change of a previously approved collection for which approval has expired.

Abstract: Pursuant to the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act and section 5(h) of the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended, the Secretary of Agriculture has the authority to develop an emergency food stamp program to address the temporary food needs of families following a disaster. The information collection under this notice is required to be provided by State agencies in order to receive approval from the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) to operate an emergency food stamp program as the result of a disaster.

The number of disasters that occur annually and the average number of households affected by disasters cannot be accurately predicted. In reviewing the number of disasters for the last three fiscal years, we found that although the number of disasters remained relatively constant, most disasters covered small geographic areas and affected small populations resulting in a decreased reporting burden. In 1999, there were eight disasters with the number of disaster-affected households ranging from 93 to 147,189. In 2000, there were four disasters with the number of disaster-affected households ranging from 12 to 40,149. In 2001, there were four disasters and the number of disaster-affected households ranging from 410 to 56,060. The information collection under this reporting burden is limited to burden encountered by State agencies in preparing their requests to operate disaster food stamp programs. We estimate that approximately 10 hours of State agency personnel time would be required to prepare such requests. Previously, we had included in this information collection the burden associated with the application process experienced by disaster victims applying for assistance under State disaster food stamp programs as well as the burden experienced by State and local food stamp personnel in processing such applications. Upon review we have determined that the reporting burden associated with the process of applying for food stamp benefits under disaster food stamp programs has been included in approved information collection under the overall food stamp application-processing burden (approved under OMB no. 0584-0064) and that including the application-processing burden under this information collection would be redundant.

Based on an estimate of six State agency requests per year to operate disaster food stamp programs and 10 hours of State agency personnel time to prepare each application, we have calculated an estimated burden of 60 hours per year in an average year. We note that in most years the number of disasters (six) necessitating the operation of disaster food stamp programs falls below the minimum threshold for which OMB approval of the reporting burden associated with this information collection is required. Since an above average number of disasters may occur in any given year we have elected to submit this information collection to OMB for their approval, and consequently, are requesting public comments associated with the collection.

Affected Public: Food Stamp recipients; State and local governments.
Estimated Number of Responses: 6.
Estimated Number of Respondents: 6.
Estimated Number of Responses per Recipient: 1.
Estimated Time per Response: 10 hours.
Estimated Total Annual Burden: 60 hours.

Dated: September 5, 2002.

Roberto Salazar,

Administrator, Food and Nutrition Service.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Codex was established in 1962 by two United Nations organizations, the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and the World Health Organization (WHO). Codex is the major international organization for protecting the health and economic interests of consumers and for encouraging fair international trade in food. Through adoption of food standards, codes of practice, and other guidelines developed by its committees, and by promoting their adoption and implementation by governments, Codex seeks to ensure that the world's food supply is sound, wholesome, free from adulteration, and correctly labeled. In the United States, USDA, FDA, and EPA manage and carry out U.S. Codex activities.

The Coordinating Committee for North America and the South-West Pacific defines the problems and needs of the region concerning food standards and food control. It provides within the committee contacts for the mutual exchange of information on proposed regulatory initiatives and problems arising from food control and stimulates the strengthening of food control infrastructures. It recommends to the Commission the development of world-wide standards for products of interest to the region, including products considered by the committee to have an international market potential in the future. It exercises a general coordinating role for the region and such other functions as may be entrusted to it by the Commission. It draws the attention of the Commission to any aspects of the Commission's work of particular significance to the region. The Government of Canada is hosting this activity.
