SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Eastern Interior Draft RMP/EIS covers approximately 6.7 million acres of BLM-administered lands in interior Alaska and is divided into four geographic areas: The Fortymile, Steese, Upper Black River, and White Mountains subunits. The planning area encompasses four areas managed under the BLM's National Landscape Conservation System (NLCS): The Birch Creek, Beaver Creek, and Fortymile National Wild and Scenic Rivers; and the Steese National Conservation Area. In addition to these NLCS areas, the planning area includes the White Mountains National Recreation Area. These five areas were designated and are covered by special provisions in the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act of 1980, as amended (ANILCA).

The following BLM plans currently guide management decisions for 4.2 million acres in the planning area: Fortymile Management Framework Plan (1980), Fortymile River Management Plan (1983), Birch Creek River Management Plan (1983), Beaver Creek River Management Plan (1983), Record of Decision and RMP for the Steese National Conservation Area (1986), and Record of Decision and RMP for the White Mountains National Recreation Area (1986). The remaining 2.5 million acres are not covered by any land use plans.

The BLM published a Notice of Intent to prepare an RMP/EIS in the Federal Register on February 29, 2008 (73 FR 11140), beginning a 120-day scoping and public comment period. The following issues were identified during scoping: Climate change, fisheries, minerals, recreation, rights-of-way, subsistence, travel management, water quality, lands with wilderness characteristics, and wildlife.

The Draft RMP/EIS presents four alternatives, including the No Action Alternative. The BLM's preferred alternative (Alternative C) proposes a balanced level of protection, use, and enhancement of resources and services, and represents the mix and variety of actions that the BLM believes best resolves the issues and management concerns in consideration of all resource values and programs.

Pursuant to 43 CFR 1610.7-2, areas with potential for designation as Areas of Critical Environmental Concern (ACEC) and protective management are considered during the planning process. Four potential ACECs are considered for designation in Draft RMP/EIS. Boundaries, size, and management direction within potential ACECs vary by Alternative. Table 1 lists the three ACECs considered for designation in the Agency Preferred Alternative (Alternative C). The White Mountains ACEC is not considered for designation in Alternative C, but is considered for designation in one other alternative. All alternatives will retain the four existing Research Natural Areas.

The following table includes the names and acreages of each proposed ACEC and provides summary descriptions of resource use limitations for Alternative C.

TABLE 1—PROPOSED NEW ACECS UNDER THE AGENCY PREFERRED ALTERNATIVE, ALTERNATIVE C

Proposed ACEC name	Acres	Limitations
Fortymile ACEC	547,000	Limited Off-Highway Vehicle (OHV) designation; seasonal limitation on uses within one mile of ungulate mineral licks; 360,000 acres of core caribou habitat closed to locatable mineral entry and mineral leasing.
Steese ACEC	460,000	Limited OHV designation; winter motorized use in Dall sheep habitat may be restricted if monitoring indicates sheep displacement; development of trails and recreational facilities must be compatible with caribou and Dall sheep habitat; seasonal limitation on uses within one mile of ungulate mineral licks; closed to locatable mineral entry and mineral leasing.
Salmon Fork ACEC	621,000	Limited OHV designation; closed to mineral leasing.

Pursuant to section 810 of ANILCA, the BLM evaluated the effects of the alternatives presented in this Draft

RMP/EIS on subsistence activities and determined that some decisions in the Draft RMP/EIS may significantly restrict subsistence uses. The BLM will hold public hearings related to Section 810 of ANILCA, in conjunction with public meetings on the Draft RMP/EIS, in potentially affected regions. The BLM will announce notice of specific dates and locations for ANILCA hearings at least 15 days in advance, through public notices, media releases, and/or mailings.

Please note that public comments and information submitted including names, street addresses, and email addresses of persons who submit comments will be available for public review and disclosure at the above address during regular business hours (8 a.m. to 4 p.m.), Monday through Friday, except holidays.

Before including your address, phone number, email address, or other personal identifying information in your comment, you should be aware that your entire comment—including your personal identifying information—may be made publicly available at any time. AGENCY: Bureau of Reclamation, Interior.

ACTION: Notice of intent.

SUMMARY: The Bureau of Reclamation (Reclamation) intends to prepare an environmental impact statement (EIS) on the Pojoaque Basin Regional Water System. Reclamation will serve as the lead Federal agency. Other entities will be considered as necessary during the EIS process.

The proposed Pojoaque Basin Regional Water System will divert, treat, and distribute potable water to the Pueblo and non-Pueblo residents of the Pojoaque Basin. The Regional Water System will consist of surface water diversion and water treatment facilities at San Ildefonso Pueblo on the Rio Grande and storage tanks, transmission and distribution pipelines, and aquifer storage and recovery well fields that will supply up to 4,000 acre-feet of water annually to customers within the Pojoaque Basin.

The Settlement Act authorizes implementation of a Settlement Agreement among the United States, the State of New Mexico, the County of Santa Fe, the City of Santa Fe, the four Pueblos, and other non-Pueblo parties, and allows for the annual diversion of up to 4,000 acre-feet of water per year and the construction of the Pojoaque Basin Regional Water System to treat and distribute the water to residents of the Pojoaque Basin. The Settlement Agreement provides for settlement of water rights claims of the Nambé, Pojoaque, San Ildefonso, and Tesuque Pueblos in the Pojoaque Basin.

As described in the Settlement Act, Congress is requiring compliance with relevant laws protecting the environment, including but not limited to NEPA and the Endangered Species Act of 1973.
