Commercial Setting

The United States and Canada share the largest and most dynamic commercial relationship in the world. In 2008, two-way merchandise trade crossing our common border with Canada stood at US$596.9 billion, or more than US$1.6 billion per day as U.S. exports to Canada grew by 5.0%. Today, U.S. trade with Canada, just one country, is about the same as total U.S. trade with all 27 countries of the European Union combined. Canada also represents the number one export market for 36 of our 50 states and is among the top five export markets for another ten states.

Canada's geographic proximity, open market economy, stable business climate and receptivity to U.S. goods and services make it the number one gateway to the international marketplace for thousands of U.S. export-ready SMEs. The North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), which provides many U.S.

origin goods with duty-free entry into Canada, also contributes to the relatively low-cost, low-risk, access that U.S. SMEs can gain to prosper and grow in the global marketplace.

Leading Sectors in Canada for U.S. Export and Investment:

- Medical Devices
- Safety and Security Equipment
- Agricultural Machinery and Equipment
- Aerospace and Defense
- Consumer Electronics
- Travel and Tourism
- Automotive Aftermarket Parts & Accessories/Service Equipment
- Computer Hardware
- Telecommunications Equipment
- Computer Software
- Oil and Gas Field Machinery
- Electrical Power Systems

Mission Goals

To provide U.S. export-ready, small-to-medium-sized firms with cost-effective, low opportunities to identify, establish and develop valuable long-term business relations in Canada, our number one export market.

To provide state, regional and local governments in the United States with a ready-made vehicle that can be employed to help their rural and minority-owned SMEs cross the threshold into the international market.

To provide our individual participants with export successes and our multipliers with a positive export-development experience.

Mission Scenario

In each city, participants will be invited to attend an informal ice-breaker reception, where they will meet CS staff and receive their updated participant's information package, as well as briefings on the following day's program. Participants will be allowed to set-up their table-top displays and pop-up exhibits that evening. Participants will also be provided with a six-foot draped table for their table-top displays and four chairs for use during the event.

The day of the event will begin with a briefing on "Doing Business in Canada" focusing on the respective regional market and featuring CS Canada business service providers and others speaking on the commercial climate, local business practices, shipping to Canada, and other aspects of doing business in Canada.

Individual one-on-one business meetings with pre-screened prospective Canadian business partners will commence immediately following the briefing in the exhibit hall/meeting room and will continue throughout the day. In addition to one-on-one meetings
