

the difference between estimated and actual OM&R expenses. If OM&R charges are underestimated, an amount equal to the difference is added to the next installment. Conversely, if OM&R charges are overestimated, the amount is deducted from the next installment.

In accordance with the Contracts, minor replacements and additions are included in the annual operation and maintenance expenses of the DCP. If major replacements and additions exceeding $5,000, but not greater than $25,000, in costs are needed, the Customers are given the option of financing their individual shares of the cost or of having the cost capitalized and amortized over the life of the replacement or addition or over the life of the contract. If the Customer chooses the latter, the cost is capitalized at the current interest rate prescribed by the DOE, pursuant to RA 6120.2 11B "Basic Policy for Rate Adjustment; Interest Rate Formula," in the FY in which the replacement or addition is made. Such costs are based on prudent and businesslike management practices and in accordance with established electric industry operation and maintenance practices. If extraordinary replacements exceeding $25,000 in costs are needed, Western will consult with Reclamation, the water users, and the Customers about financing the replacement.

The rate is not dependent upon the power and energy made available for sale. Instead, Customers will pay total PRP annual powerplant expenses in return for the total marketable PRP production. Each customer pays its proportional share of the OM&R expenses identified in the PRS in 12 monthly installments.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Authorities

Power resources are marketed pursuant to the Department of Energy Organization Act (42 U.S.C. 7101–7352); the Reclamation Act of June 17, 1902 (ch. 1093, 32 Stat. 388), as amended and supplemented by subsequent enactments, particularly section 9(c) of the Reclamation Project Act of 1939 (43 U.S.C. 485(c)); and other acts specifically applicable to the projects involved.

Background

This notice provides an extension to file an application for power from the Post-2004 Resource Pool from March 8, 2000, to June 8, 2000, and waives the requirement for a Letter of Interest from applicants.

The September 8, 1999, (64 FR 48825) notice established a date 6 months after publication or March 8, 2000, for Applicant Profile Data (APD) to be received by the CRSP Management Center. Through the process of contacting potential applicants, it has become apparent that many potential new customers will not be able to meet this deadline. Western has received several requests to extend the time allowed for completion of the APD. A 3-month extension will allow applicants sufficient time to contact serving utilities and collect the information requested in the APD.

Western originally required that a Letter of Interest from applicants be received by Western by October 25, 1999. Western's intent in requiring this Letter of Interest was to provide Western with advance information about the number of applicants, particularly Native American applicants. Western anticipated that receiving this information in advance would allow time to assist these applicants in preparing their APD. A number of Letters of Interest were received prior to the announced deadline. However, several letters were submitted and accepted after the deadline had passed. Since these letters were requested for Western's convenience, the requirement for a Letter of Interest will be waived. Applicants are still encouraged to provide Western a letter indicating that they intend to apply for an allocation and name the points of contact within their organization.

Preference entities who want to apply for a new allocation of power from Western's SLCA/IP must submit formal applications conforming to the procedures described previously. Eligibility criteria, allocation criteria, and procedures for applying for power from the SLCA/IP are provided in the September 8, 1999, notice.

Dated: February 17, 2000.

Michael S. HacsKaylo, Administrator.

Title: Reporting and Recordkeeping Requirements Under EPA's WasteWise Program (OMB No. 2050-0139; EPA ICR No. 1698.04), expiring July 31, 2000.

Abstract: EPA's voluntary WasteWise program encourages businesses and other organizations to reduce solid waste through waste prevention, recycling, and the purchase or manufacture of recycled-content products. WasteWise participants include partners, which commit to implementing waste reduction activities of their choice, and endorsers, which choose to promote the WasteWise program and waste reduction to their members. Endorsers, which are typically trade associations or other membership-based associations, are asked to submit only a one-page form, the Endorser Registration Form, either electronically or in hard copy. This form identifies the organization, the principal contact, and the activities to which the Endorser commits. Partners are asked to fill out three forms as follows. The Partner Registration Form identifies the organization and the facilities that will participate in WasteWise, and includes the signature of a senior official that can commit the organization to the program. This form can be submitted either electronically or in hard copy. Each partner develops its own waste reduction goals and submits a one-page Goals Identification Form to EPA every three years, either electronically or in hard copy. Partners also report annually on the progress made toward achieving these goals in the Annual Reporting Form, estimating amounts of waste prevented and recyclables collected,
