Weil-McLain Inc., et al.*, Civil Action No. 3:00CV0593RM, were lodged on September 25, 2000 with the United States District Court for the Northern District of Indiana, South Bend Division. Both consent decrees concern claims under the Comprehensive Environmental Compensation and Liability Act ("CERCLA") in connection with the Waste, Inc. Superfund Site located in Michigan City, Indiana (the "Site"). One proposed decree (the "Conversion Consent Decree") resolves the United States' claims for costs, civil penalties, and injunctive relief against nine settling defendants who failed to comply with a unilateral administrative order issued by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in December 1995. The second proposed consent decree (the "MWS Consent Decree") resolves the United States' claims against 18 other defendants for past costs incurred in responding to the disposal of municipal solid waste (MWS) at the Site. The settling defendants under consent decree sent only MSW to the Site, and they will pay $227,000 into a special account for use in remediation of the Site.
