

an entity that, together with its affiliates and controlling interests, has average gross revenues for the preceding three years not exceeding $3 million would qualify for a 35 percent bidding credit in the Commission's paging auctions. In addition, an entity that, together with its affiliates and controlling interests, has average gross revenues for the preceding three years not exceeding $15 million will qualify for a 25 percent bidding credit. In December 1998, the Small Business Administration approved the Commission's two-tiered small business size standards. In this Memorandum Opinion and Order on Reconsideration, the Commission denies a petition for reconsideration requesting that it establish a third tier of small businesses eligible for a bidding credit, to permit an entity with average gross revenues for the preceding three years not in excess of $40 million to be eligible for a 15 percent credit. The Commission also denies the petitioner's alternative request that the threshold to qualify for a 25 percent bidding credit be raised from $15 million to $40 million. In denying both requests, the Commission explains that it has considered the particular nature of the paging industry in establishing its definitions of small businesses eligible for bidding credits. The Commission also finds that there is no need to alter the small business definitions or bidding credits for paging because it has conducted a paging auction within the past year in which the Commission used the bidding credits adopted in the Third Report and Order and small businesses were very successful in that auction. The Commission finds that the successful performance of small businesses in Auction 26 supports the conclusion that the current small business definitions and bidding credits are appropriate for future paging auctions. Finally, the Commission notes that, as this petitioner is the only party to raise this issue, there does not appear to be a widespread belief in the paging industry that the existing small business definitions need to be changed in the manner requested.
