

disclosed and claimed in the prospective licensed patent rights, for the treatment of inflammatory diseases, such as hidradenitis suppurativa (HS) in humans and animals.”

The subject technology discloses potent and selective caspase 1 inhibitors that target the active site of the enzyme. Several cyanopropanate containing small molecules were synthesized, including one based upon the optimized peptidic scaffold of the prodrug VX-765. A number of these compounds were potent inhibitors of caspase 1 ($IC_{50}s \leq 1$ nM). Examination of these small molecules versus a caspase panel demonstrated an impressive degree of selectivity for caspase 1 inhibition. The small molecular probe ML132 (CID-4462093; NCGC-00183434) is the most potent caspase 1 inhibitor reported to date. It also possesses a unique selectivity pattern relative to other reported caspase inhibitors. A number of these compounds were assessed for their hydrolytic stability and selected absorption, distribution, metabolism and elimination (ADME) properties. Some of the compounds of this invention could be developed as effective therapeutics for diseases such as inflammatory diseases such as hidradenitis suppurativa (HS), ischemic disorders, Huntington's disease, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), rheumatoid arthritis, osteoarthritis, inflammatory bowel disease and sepsis.

This Notice is made in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 209 and 37 CFR part 404. The prospective exclusive license will be royalty bearing, and the prospective exclusive license may be granted unless within fifteen (15) days from the date of this published Notice, the National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences receives written evidence and argument that establishes that the grant of the license would not be consistent with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 209 and 37 CFR part 404.

In response to this Notice, the public may file comments or objections. Comments and objections, other than those in the form of a license application, will not be treated confidentially and may be made publicly available.

License applications submitted in response to this Notice will be presumed to contain business confidential information and any release of information from these license applications will be made only as required and upon a request under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552.

DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Extension and Modification of the National Customs Automation Program Test Concerning the Submission Through the Automated Commercial Environment of Certain Unique Entity Identifiers for the Global Business Identifier Evaluative Proof of Concept

AGENCY: U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Department of Homeland Security.

ACTION: General notice.

SUMMARY: On December 2, 2022, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) published a notice in the Federal Register announcing a National Customs Automation Program Test concerning the submission of unique entity identifiers for the Global Business Identifier (GBI) Evaluative Proof of Concept (EPoC). This document republishes and supersedes the notice published on December 2, 2022, extends the test period from July 21, 2023, through February 14, 2024, provides the correct web address for interested parties to use to obtain the Legal Entity Identifier (LEI), clarifies that CBP will allow participants to transmit one or more of the three entity identifiers, and makes additional minor technical and conforming corrections.

DATES: The GBI EPoC commenced on December 19, 2022, and will continue through February 14, 2024, subject to any extension, modification, or early termination as announced in the Federal Register. CBP began to accept requests from importers of record and licensed customs brokers to participate in the test on December 2, 2022, and CBP will continue to accept such requests until the GBI EPoC concludes. Public comments on the test are invited and may be submitted to the address set forth below, at any time during the test period.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For policy-related questions, contact Julie L. Stoeber, Branch Chief, 1USG, Interagency Collaboration Division, Trade Policy and Programs Directorate, Office of Trade, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, at (202) 945-7064 or via email at GBI@cbp.dhs.gov, with a subject line reading "Global Business Identifier Test-GBI." For technical questions related to the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) or Automated Broker Interface (ABI) transmissions, importers of record and licensed customs brokers should contact their assigned ACE or ABI client representatives, respectively. Interested parties without an assigned client representative should direct their questions to Tonya Perez, Director, Client Services Division, Office of Trade, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, at (571) 421-7477 or via email at clientreputreach@cbp.dhs.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On December 2, 2022, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) published a General Notice (the December 2 Notice) in the Federal Register (87 FR 74157) announcing a National Customs Automation Program (NCAP) Test concerning the submission through the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) of certain unique entity identifiers for the Global Business Identifier (GBI) Evaluative Proof of Concept (EPoC). This document republishes and supersedes the December 2 Notice, with minor technical and conforming corrections, in addition to the following three changes.

First, the test period has been extended from July 21, 2023, through February 14, 2024. Second, this notice provides the correct web address for interested parties to use to obtain the Legal Entity Identifier (LEI). Specifically, section III.A. of the December 2 Notice stated that an interested party may obtain its own GBI by contacting Dun and Bradstreet (D&B) regarding the Data Universal Numbering System (D-U-N-S®); GS1 regarding the Global Location Number (GLN); and the Global Legal Entity Identifier Foundation (GLEIF) regarding the LEI. Unfortunately, the web address provided in the December 2 Notice for obtaining the LEI did not send participants to the GLEIF domain, but rather to the LEI Register, which is one of many third-party entities that assigns LEI numbers. The correct web address for the GLEIF domain is <https://www.gleif.org/en/about-lei/get-an-lei-find-lei-issuing-organizations>. From this website, participants can choose from a list of certified third-party entities that provide LEIs. This allows participants to obtain an LEI number from the entity that best meets the participant's needs. Lastly, this notice clarifies that CBP will allow participants to provide one or more of the three identifiers for the manufacturers, shippers, and sellers (optionally, exporters, distributors, and packagers) of merchandise covered by specified types of entries which are limited for purposes of this test to certain commodities and countries of origin, and that CBP will not require transmission of all three identifiers to participate in the test.

For ease of reference, the December 2 Notice is republished below, with the correct web address and other minor technical and conforming corrections.

I. Background

A. The National Customs Automation Program

The National Customs Automation Program (NCAP) was established by Subtitle B of Title VI—Customs Modernization, in the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act (Customs Modernization Act) (Pub. L. 103-182, 107 Stat. 2057, 2170, December 8, 1993) (19 U.S.C. 1411). Through the NCAP, the thrust of customs modernization was focused on informed trade compliance and the development of the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE), the planned successor to the Automated Commercial System (ACS). ACE is an automated and electronic system for commercial trade processing, intended to streamline business processes,
