SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Need for Extension of the Comment Period

On January 4, 2023, DHS published a proposed rule in the Federal Register at 88 FR 402 proposing amendments to certain immigration and naturalization benefit request fees charged by USCIS. On February 14, 2023, an error occurred on the General Service Administration's (GSA) eRulemaking Portal: <https://www.regulations.gov>. This error caused a technical issue so that the public could not review or submit comments on the proposed rule. GSA corrected the technical issue as soon as they identified it. In the process, the public was unable to review or submit comments for almost 24 hours. Due to this technical issue, accompanied by technical issues that had delayed the upload of several supporting documents by two days at the start of the comment period, DHS is extending the comment period by 5 business days until March 13, 2023. Please submit written comments and related material on or before March 13, 2023. Please refer to the instructions and guidance in the proposed rule (88 FR 402, January 4, 2023) for more information on how to submit public comment. DHS will consider comments received during the entire public comment period.

Christina E. McDonald,

Associate General Counsel for Regulatory Affairs, Office of the General Counsel, U.S. Department of Homeland Security.
