

reasonable policies and procedures that it will follow when it receives a notice of address discrepancy from a consumer reporting agency. A user of consumer reports must furnish an address that the user has reasonably confirmed to be accurate to the consumer reporting agency from which it receives a notice of address discrepancy.

There is no change in the method or substance of the information collection. The total estimated annual burden hours have increased due to the inclusion of estimated program establishment costs for de novo institutions and the introduction of the costs of responses to specific address discrepancy incidents for newly established consumer accounts.

General Description of Collection: As provided in section 1473(p) of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act), on January 12, 2011, the Appraisal Subcommittee (“ASC”), of the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council (FFIEC) determined that no national hotline existed to receive complaints of noncompliance with appraisal standards. A notice of that determination was published in the Federal Register on January 28, 2011 (76 FR 5161). As required by the Dodd-Frank Act, the ASC established a hotline to refer complaints to appropriate state and Federal regulators. For those instances where the ASC determines the FDIC, OCC, FRB, or NCUA is the appropriate regulator, the agencies developed the Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form as a means to efficiently collect necessary information. The Interagency Appraisal Complaint Form is designed to collect information necessary for one or more agencies to take further action on a complaint from an appraiser, other individual, financial institution, or other entities. The FDIC will use the information to take further action on the complaint to the extent it relates to an issue within its jurisdiction.

There is no change in the method or substance of the collection. The overall increase in burden hours (from 20 hours to 58 hours) is the result of a change in the agency’s estimate of the number of annual responses based on a review of the actual number of complaints received over the last five years. In particular, the estimated number of respondents has increased from 40 to 116 while the estimated time per response and the frequency of response have remained the same.
