SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Discussion

On March 8, 2018, at 83 FR 9818, the Federal Register published our notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM), which proposed to amend 14 CFR part 39 by adding an AD that would apply to BHTC Model 429 helicopters, serial numbers 57001 and larger, with a bearing part number (P/N) 429-010-433-101 or 429-010-433-103 installed. The NPRM proposed to require inspecting each bearing for wear and play. The AD was prompted by reports of worn bearings. The proposed requirements were intended to prevent a worn bearing, which could result in failure of a bearing, which could lead to reduced helicopter handling, damage to other components, and subsequent loss of helicopter control.

The NPRM was prompted by Canadian AD No. CF-2016-39, dated December 12, 2016 (Transport Canada AD CF-2016-39), issued by Transport Canada, which is the aviation authority for Canada, to correct an unsafe condition for BHTC Model 429 helicopters, serial numbers 57001 and subsequent. Transport Canada advises of reports of worn bearings adversely affecting the helicopters' handling qualities. Transport Canada states the scheduled inspection interval of 12 months or 800 hours is not sufficient to detect and correct a worn bearing under the current wear rate. Additionally, according to Transport Canada, the combination of the blade weight, positioning of the swashplate, and the preload of elastomers can make bearing play difficult to detect during a preflight exterior check. Transport Canada determined it necessary to implement an inspection frequent enough to detect a worn bearing in order to prevent a bearing from failing, adversely affecting handling qualities, and damaging adjacent components. These conditions could lead to loss of control of the helicopter. Transport Canada AD CF-2016-39 therefore requires inspecting bearing P/N 429-010-433-101/-103 for play and potential wear and replacing it if necessary, within 30 days from the effective date of its AD and at subsequent intervals not to exceed 50 hours air time.

Comments

After our NPRM was published, we received a comment from one commenter.

Request

The commenter questioned the need for the proposed AD. The commenter stated that Bell Helicopter Alert Service Bulletin 429-11-03, which was issued in 2011, already requires inspections of the pitch link bearings.

We disagree. While an operator may incorporate the procedures in the Bell Helicopter Alert Service Bulletin into its maintenance program, not all operators are required to do so. In order for the corrective actions in the service information to become mandatory, and to correct the unsafe condition identified in the NPRM, the FAA must issue an AD.

FAA's Determination

These helicopters have been approved by the aviation authority of Canada and are approved for operation in the United States. Pursuant to our bilateral agreement with Canada, Transport Canada, its technical representative, has notified us of the unsafe condition described in the Transport Canada AD. We are issuing this AD because we evaluated all information provided by Transport Canada, reviewed the relevant information, considered the comments
