BILLING CODE 4910-13-P

NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION14 CFR Part 1240

[Document Number NASA-2012-0002]

RIN 2700-AD51

Inventions and ContributionsAGENCY: National Aeronautics and Space Administration.ACTION: Direct final rule.

SUMMARY: NASA is amending its regulations to clarify and update the procedures for board recommended awards, and the procedures and requirements for recommended special initial awards, including patent application awards, software release awards, and Tech Brief awards, and to update citations and the information on the systems used for reporting inventions and issuing award payments. The revisions to this rule are part of NASA's retrospective plan under EO 13563 completed in August 2011. NASA's full plan can be accessed at: http://www.nasa.gov/pdf/581545main_Final%20Plan%20for%20Retrospective%20Analysis%20of%20Existing%20Regulations.pdf.

DATES: This rule is effective July 9, 2012 without further action, unless adverse comment is received by June 11, 2012. If adverse comment is received, NASA will publish a timely withdrawal of the rule in the Federal Register.

Helen M. Galus, Office of the General Counsel, NASA Headquarters, telephone (202) 358-3437, fax (202) 358-4341.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Final regulations relating to Invention and Contributions Board Awards for Scientific and Technical Contributions [14 CFR part 1240, Subpart 1], were published at 25 FR 1312 on February 13, 1960. These regulations were written under the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958, As Amended, 42 U.S.C. 2457(f), 2458 and 2473(b)(1) (now, National Aeronautics and Space Act, 51 U.S.C. 20135(g), 20136 and 20112 (b)(1)). This subpart prescribes the regulations for the granting of monetary awards by the NASA Administrator, for scientific and technical contributions of significant value in the conduct of aeronautical and space activities. Final amendments to these regulations were published at 67 FR 31119 on May 9, 2002, to provide definitions, add new category of initial awards for release of software, to provide initial awards for the issuance of patents based upon continuation-in-part and divisional patent applications, to increase the amount of certain awards, and to change delegations of authority from the NASA Administrator.

NASA is now again revising its regulations at 14 CFR part 1240, subpart 1, to clarify the eligibility requirements for certain awards and clarify that the awards are recommended by the Inventions and Contributions Board (hereinafter "the Board"), but final terms and conditions of the awards are at the discretion of the Administrator or his designee, the revisions also provide the Board more flexibility in the amount of the special awards to be recommended. Additionally, the National Aeronautics and Space Act (hereinafter "the Space Act"), is now codified in Title 51 of the United States Code, so citations to this Act have been updated accordingly. The regulations have also been revised, in part, to make them conform closer to the terms of the Space Act, and to reflect current accounting techniques used at the Agency. Additional revisions include rendering the terminology consistent within the regulations and the sentence structure grammatically complete and easier to understand. Finally, the revisions reflect organizational management changes that have taken place within the agency and the respective resulting responsibilities.

Direct Final Rule and Significant Adverse Comments

NASA has determined this rulemaking meets the criteria for a direct final rule because it involves clarifications, updating, and minor substantive changes to the existing regulations. NASA does not anticipate this direct final rule will result in any major changes to its current awards program. NASA expects no opposition to the changes and no significant adverse comments. However, if NASA receives a significant adverse comment, the Agency will withdraw this direct final rule by publishing a document in the Federal Register. A significant adverse comment is one that explains:

(1) Why the direct final rule is inappropriate, including challenges to the rule's underlying premise or approach; or (2) why the direct final rule will be ineffective or unacceptable without a change. In determining whether a comment necessitates withdrawal of this direct final rule, NASA will consider whether it warrants a substantive response in a notice and comment process.

Statutory Authority

The Invention and Contributions Board is established under the National Aeronautics and Space Act, as amended, 51 U.S.C. 20135(g). 51 U.S.C. 20136(a) authorizes the NASA Administrator to make monetary awards to any person for any scientific or technical contribution to NASA which is determined by the Administrator to have significant value in the conduct of aeronautical and space activities. Applications for such awards are referred to the Inventions and Contributions Board which transmits to the Administrator its recommendation as to the terms of the award. The Federal Technology Transfer Act of 1986, sec. 12, 15 U.S.C. 3710b, requires, in part, the head of each Federal agency (that is making expenditures at a rate of more than $50,000,000 per fiscal year for research and development in its Government-operated laboratories) to use the appropriate statutory authority to develop and implement a cash awards program to reward its scientific, engineering, and technical personnel for inventions, innovations, computer software, or other outstanding scientific or technological contributions of value to the United States due to commercial application or due to contributions to missions of the Federal agency or the Federal government. Regulations setting forth the eligibility and procedures for submitting applications for monetary awards to the Administrator of NASA for scientific and technical contributions which have significant value in the conduct of aeronautical and space activities pursuant to the Space Act, and establishing an awards program consistent with the Federal Technology Transfer Act of 1986 are provided in Title 14 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1240, Subpart 1.

Regulatory Analysis Section

Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

This rule does not contain an information collection requirement subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Executive Order 12866 and Executive Order 13563

Executive Orders 13563 and 12866 direct agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health and safety effects, distributive impacts, and equity). Executive Order 13563 emphasizes the importance of quantifying both costs and benefits, of reducing costs, of harmonizing rules, and of promoting flexibility. This rule has been designated a "significant regulatory action" although not economically significant, under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866. Accordingly, the rule has been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

It has been certified that this rule is not subject to the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601) because it would not, if promulgated, have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The rule sets forth procedures for submitting applications for monetary awards to the Administrator of NASA for scientific and technical contributions which have significant value in the conduct of aeronautical and space activities pursuant to the Space Act, and establishes the awards program consistent with the Federal Technology Transfer Act of 1986. Based on the typical recipient and number of these awards, the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.
