SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Shortly after the September 11 events, the FAA announced the establishment of the Enhanced Airplane Security Program for airplanes with operating certificates issued under part 119 that conduct operations under part 121 as passenger carrying operations in common carriage (http://www2.airweb.faa.gov/airplane_security/announce.htm). The objective of the program is to enhance safety by improving flightdeck security on airplanes meeting the criteria as recommended by the Secretary of Transportation's Rapid Response Team on Aircraft Security. The program specifically authorizes the funds for security enhancements to the flightcrew compartment door, as well as transponder modifications and video cameras in the cabin.

The program required that all participants report their progress against a set of goals, identifying modifications by airplane types, the date when modified airplanes are returned to service, and the actual cost of work on a per aircraft basis, including labor and materials. Participants are required to maintain for 3 years accounting and financial records reflecting all project costs with supporting documents and records that will be sufficient for financial audit.

To ensure the funding is appropriately used, the FAA announced that funding would be dependent on the level of modification, i.e., from level 1-simple modification to level 5-installation of new doors, and that funding would be distributed as follows: 30% when the design is authorized, 40% after completion of the first airplane installation, and the final 30% after the modifications are installed in the last airplane.

Related Activity

In the 7 months since the initial funding announcement, the FAA mandated short-term security enhancements to the flightdeck compartment door in SFAR 92-3 (67 FR 2112, January 15, 2002) and retrofit installation of reinforced doors in Amendments 25-106 and 121-288 (67 FR 2118). The retrofit requires that the reinforced doors be installed by April 9, 2003. These rules eliminated the need to distinguish between the level 1 through level 5 modifications described above.

These levels are no longer a part of the program.

In its economic evaluation of the door retrofit requirement, the FAA estimated that the direct cost of the reinforced door alone would be at least $17,000 per aircraft. The SFAR 92-3 enhancements are believed to have cost operators several thousand dollars more per aircraft. Congress appropriated $100 million to assist the operators in making the modifications. Based on that amount, the FAA has decided to reimburse $13,200 of cost for each of the 7,000 affected aircraft. If funding remains available or becomes available, the FAA may increase the amount of the reimbursement. Because the expenditures will exceed the funds available per aircraft, the FAA has decided that this change in its funding strategy is necessary.

For operators that have already submitted an application and received notification from the FAA, nothing else is required. The FAA will contact you if further information is needed. Operators that have not yet applied for reimbursement may apply using the simplified applications form located at: http://www2.airweb.faa.gov/airplane_security/announce.htm.

Prior to receiving funding, each operator will have to commit to spending the entire reimbursed amount on the mandated door modifications. Operators will also be required to substantiate the actual level of expenditures per airplane made under this program.

OMB Number: 1505-0024

Abstract: Forms CQ-1 and CQ-2 are part of the Treasury International Capital (TIC) reporting system, which is required by law (22 U.S.C. 286f; 22 USC 3103; EO 10033; 31 CFR 128), and is designed to collect timely information on international portfolio capital movements. Forms CQ-1 and CQ-2 are quarterly reports filed by nonbanking and non-securities broker and dealer enterprises in the U.S. to report their international portfolio transactions with unaffiliated foreigners. This information is necessary for compiling the U.S. balance of payments accounts, for calculating the U.S. international investment position, and for use in formulating U.S. international financial and monetary policies. Current Actions: (a) The exemption level for reporting positions will be raised from $10 million to $50 million for Form CQ-1, and from $10 million to $25 million for Form CQ-2; (b) The period of time a reporter has to submit reports once the exemption level is exceeded has been changed to the remainder of the current calendar year; (c) For Bank Holding Companies and Financial Holding Companies (BHCs/FHCs), their insurance subsidiaries will continue to file TIC Form CQ-1 reports. (BHCs/FHCs and their other subsidiaries will continue to file TIC-B reports, according to the directions given in the instructions for the TIC B reports); (d) These proposed new C Forms and instructions will be effective as of March 31, 2003; (e) The instructions include a more detailed description of the reporting of liabilities and loans placed overseas; (f) The instructions contain a more detailed description of the reporting of short-term securities (including negotiable CDs); (g) On the revised form, respondents will report brokerage balances. A revised description of brokerage balances is included in the instructions; (h) The revised forms each have four memorandum rows for reporting the amounts contained in the grand totals of each column that are denominated in U.S. dollars, Euros, Pound Sterling, and Yen; (i) Both of the revised forms collect data on remaining maturities of the amounts contained in the grand totals of the two liabilities columns on each form. The maturities are broken down into ten categories; previously, there were two categories. Reporting of maturities will only be required from large reporters (more than $1 billion in reportable liabilities on Form CQ-1); (j) In Form CQ-1, Part I, Financial Liabilities, the two columns are redefined for reporting of Short-term Negotiable Securities and Other Liabilities; (k) In Form CQ-1, Part II, Financial Claims, the currently reported two columns for dollar denominated and foreign currency denominated deposits have been combined, and the resulting three columns in the revised form capture the reporting of Non-
