

prohibitions and removal of the policy that allows a foreign government or entity to use the enforcement mechanisms of the Commission.

The rule will not, if promulgated, have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities." The Commission is issuing this NPRM to seek comment on the possible elimination of existing comity-based prohibitions and removal of the policy that allows a foreign government or entity to use the enforcement mechanisms of the Commission to prohibit U.S. carriers from offering call-back abroad. The proposals do not impose any additional compliance burden on small entities dealing with the Commission. The RFA generally defines the term "small entity" as having the same meaning as the terms "small business," "small organization," and "small governmental jurisdiction." In addition, the term "small business" has the same meaning as the term "small business concern" under the Small Business Act. Accordingly, we certify, pursuant to section 605(b) of the RFA, that the proposals, if promulgated, would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small business entities, as defined by the RFA. The Commission's Consumer Information Bureau, Reference Information Center, shall send a copy of this Notice, including the Initial Regulatory Flexibility Certification, to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration in accordance with section 605(b) of the RFA. This initial certification will also be published in the Federal Register.

Truthful Statements

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Commission proposes to amend its regulations relating to the submission of truthful information to the Commission. Under the current rule, Commission regulatees must not, in any written statement submitted to the Commission, make any misrepresentation or willful material omission bearing on any matter within the jurisdiction of the Commission. The item would provide that the rule prohibits incorrect statements or omissions resulting from negligence and not just intentional misrepresentation or lack of candor; make clearer that the rule covers statements made to the Commission in all contexts; include oral statements and not just written statements; and include all persons making statements to the Commission (e.g., including non-regulatees).

DATES: Comments must be filed on or before April 8, 2002; reply comments must be filed on or before April 22, 2002.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, 445 12th Street, SW, Room 8-C723, Washington, DC 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: David S. Senzel, Office of General Counsel (202) 418-1720.

Summary of Notice of Proposed Rule Making

1. By this notice of proposed rulemaking, we propose to amend § 1.17 of our Rules, 47 CFR 1.17, which relates to the submission of truthful statements to the Commission.

2. In all of our proceedings, the Commission relies heavily on the truthfulness and accuracy of information submitted to us. If information submitted to us is incorrect, we cannot properly carry out our statutory responsibilities. It is our experience that the vast majority of persons dealing with the Commission understand their obligation to take the appropriate steps to ensure that the information they submit is accurate. Nevertheless, we believe that the scope of the current § 1.17 as written may reflect an unduly narrow articulation of the existing obligations of persons dealing with the Commission. It thus may hamper our ability to take enforcement action in those rare cases where persons dealing with the Commission do not exercise the requisite care to ensure that they submit accurate information. Accordingly, we propose to revise § 1.17 as follows: (1) To provide that the rule prohibits incorrect statements or omissions that are the result of an intent to deceive or negligence¹; (2) to make clearer that the rule covers statements made to the Commission in all contexts; (3) to include oral statements and not just written statements; and (4) to include all persons making statements to the Commission (e.g., including non-regulatees).

3. To implement these changes, we proposed to modify slightly the first sentence of the current rule, which merely codifies existing statutory requirements in §§ 218, 308(b), 403, and other sections of the Act pertaining to the obligation to provide any required information. In addition, we modify the remainder of § 1.17 to set forth the obligation to provide truthful information. By specifying that the rule prohibits both intentional and negligent statements and omissions, the proposed rule better conveys our view that the rule should have a broad scope. Licensees, regulatees, and others are responsible for using their best efforts and exercising care and diligence to ensure that, in all contexts, the information they provide is correct and accurate. Nevertheless, we seek comment on whether certain classes of proceedings (e.g., rulemakings or other non-adjudicatory proceedings not involving specific parties) should be subject to the rule only when deceptive intent is involved and whether persons or entities that are not regulated by the Commission should be subject to the rule only when deceptive intent is involved.

Initial Regulatory Flexibility Certification

4. The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, as amended (see 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.)² requires an initial regulatory flexibility analysis in a notice and comment rulemaking proceeding unless we certify that “the rule will not, if promulgated, have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.” 5 U.S.C. 605(b). We believe that the rule we propose today will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

5. In proposing to expand the scope of 47 CFR 1.17, we are merely requiring persons dealing with the Commission to submit accurate information. The proposed revised rule thus would not impose any significant compliance burden on persons dealing with the Commission, including small entities, or otherwise affect the rights of persons participating in Commission proceedings. The revised rule would simply enable the Commission to impose sanctions more effectively in those instances where people intentionally or negligently submit incorrect information. There is thus no reason to believe that operation of the revised rule would impose significant costs on parties to Commission proceedings.

6. Accordingly, we certify that the rule as proposed will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. 5 U.S.C. 605(b). The Commission shall send a copy of this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, including this certification, to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the SBA. 5 U.S.C. 605(b). A copy of this certification will also be published in the Federal Register. Id.

7. This Notice is Hereby given of the proposed regulatory changes described above, and that Comment is Sought on these proposals.

1.419, interested persons May file comments on or before April 8, 2002 and reply comments on or before April 22, 2002. Update and Refresh Record on Rules Adopted in 1998 Advanced Services Docket

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This document invites comment on the advisability of eliminating, repealing, or amending specific language in the Commission's rules on standards for physical collocation and virtual location. The Commission is taking this action in response to a request by Verizon that the Commission clarify that this rule does not preclude an incumbent LEC from installing a point of termination bay (POT bay) at the point where an incumbent LEC's facilities terminate and a collocator's facilities begin.
