

third parties instead of directly to the Exchange.

With respect to the higher fees assessed for SQF Ports and SQF Purge Ports, the Exchange notes that only Market Makers may utilize these ports. Market Makers are required to provide continuous two-sided quotes on a daily basis,¹²⁶ and are subject to various obligations associated with providing liquidity.¹²⁷ As a result of these quoting obligations, the SQF Port and SQF Purge Port are designed to handle higher throughput to permit Market Makers to bundle orders to meet their obligations. The technology to permit Market Makers to submit a greater number of quotes, in addition to the various risk protections¹²⁸ afforded to these market participants when quoting, accounts for the higher SQF Port and SQF Purge Port fees. Greater liquidity benefits all market participants by providing more trading opportunities and attracting greater participation by Market Makers. Also, an increase in the activity of Market Makers in turn facilitates tighter spreads.

Options 7, Section 7—Market Data

The initiation of market data fees will not impose an undue burden on inter-market competition. Since February 2016, MRX has disseminated market data without charging a fee, allowing MRX time to build order flow. Now that order flow has increased from approximately 0.2 percent to 1.8 percent of the market, MRX proposes charging fees that reflect the value of that data.

Permitting MRX to charge a fee for its data does not impose any burden on the ability of other options exchanges to compete. Each of the remaining 15 options exchanges currently sells its market data, and is capable of modifying its fees response to the proposed changes by MRX. Moreover, allowing MRX, or any new market entrant, to waive fees for a period of time to allow it to become established encourages market entry and thereby ultimately promotes competition.

If the changes proposed herein are unattractive to market participants, it is likely that the Exchange will lose market share.¹²⁹ The Exchange does not believe that the proposed changes will impair the ability of members or competing order execution venues to maintain their competitive standing in the financial markets.
