Proximity detection systems provide a warning and stop continuous mining machines before a pinning, crushing, or striking accident occurs that could result in injury or death to a miner.

Under 30 CFR 75.1732(d)(1), at the completion of the check of the machine-mounted components of the proximity detection system described under 75.1732(c)(1), a certified person must certify by initials, date, and time that the check was conducted. The certified person is defined under 30 CFR 75.100 as a person who has been certified as a mine foreman (mine manager), an assistant mine foreman (section foreman), or a preshift examiner (mine examiner). Defects found as a result of the check, including corrective actions and dates of corrective actions, must be recorded before the end of the shift.

Under 30 CFR 75.1732(d)(2), the operator must make a record of the defects found as a result of the checks of miner-wearable components required under 75.1732(c)(2), including corrective actions and dates of corrective actions.

Under 30 CFR 75.1732(d)(3), the operator must make a record of the persons trained in the installation and maintenance of proximity detection systems under 75.1732(b)(6).

Under 30 CFR 75.1732(d)(4), the operator must maintain records in a secure book or electronically in a secure computer system not susceptible to alteration.

Under 30 CFR 75.1732(d)(5), the operator must retain records for at least one year and make them available for inspection by authorized representatives of the Secretary and representatives of miners.

II. FACOSH Membership

FACOSH is comprised of 16 members (eight members represent management of federal agencies and departments and eight members are from labor organizations that represent federal employees) who the Secretary appoints to staggered terms not to exceed three (3) years. The Assistant Secretary, who chairs FACOSH, is seeking nominations to fill a labor member position on FACOSH that became vacant on November 30, 2023. This is a mid-term appointment, and the term will end on December 31, 2024.

FACOSH members serve at the pleasure of the Secretary unless the member is no longer qualified to serve, resigns, or is removed by the Secretary. The Secretary may appoint FACOSH members to successive terms. FACOSH meets at least two (2) times per year. The Department of Labor is committed to equal opportunity in the workplace and seeks broad-based and diverse FACOSH membership. Any interested person or organization may nominate one (1) or more qualified persons for membership on FACOSH. Interested persons also are invited and encouraged to submit statements in support of particular nominees.

III. Nomination Requirements

5. A statement that the nominee is aware of the nomination, is willing to regularly attend and participate in FACOSH meetings and has no apparent conflicts of interest that would preclude membership on FACOSH.

IV. Member Selection

The Secretary will appoint FACOSH members based on criteria including, but not limited to, the nominee's level of responsibility for occupational safety and health matters involving the Federal workforce, experience and competence in occupational safety and health, and willingness and ability to participate in FACOSH meetings regularly and fully. Labor nominees who are responsible for Federal employee occupational safety and health matters within their respective organizations are preferred. The information received through the nomination process, along with other relevant sources of information, will assist the Secretary in making appointments to FACOSH. In selecting FACOSH members, the Secretary will consider individuals nominated in response to this Federal Register notice, as well as other qualified individuals.
