SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Reopening the Record

In March, May, and July of 2000, the Commission made negative final determinations in the referenced investigations. The determinations were appealed to the U.S. Court of International Trade (CIT). On October 28, 2003, the CIT issued an opinion requiring the Commission to reconsider its findings on the applicability of the captive production provision (19 U.S.C. 1677(7)(C)(iv)) and its injury determination. The Commission was instructed to file its findings on remand within 90 days of its order, or on January 26, 2004.

In order to assist it in making its determinations on remand, the Commission is reopening the record on remand in these investigations to include information bearing on the applicability of the captive production provision. The record in these proceedings will encompass the material from the record of the original investigations and information gathered by Commission staff during the remand proceedings.

Participation in the Proceedings

Only those persons who were interested parties to the original administrative proceedings and are parties to the ongoing litigation (i.e., persons listed on the Commission Secretary's service list and parties to Bethlehem Steel v. United States, Consol. Ct. No. 00-00151) may participate in these remand proceedings.

Parties that are participating in the remand proceedings may file comments on or before January 8, 2004 on whether any new information received affects the Commission's findings as to the applicability of the captive production provision in these investigations. Comments shall be typewritten and submitted in a font no smaller than 11-point (Times new roman) and shall not exceed twelve double-spaced pages (inclusive of any footnotes, tables, graphs, exhibits, appendices, etc.).

In addition, all written submissions must conform with the provisions of section 201.8 of the Commission's rules; any submissions that contain business proprietary information (BPI) must also conform with the requirements of sections 201.6, 207.3, and 207.7 of the Commission's rules. The Commission's rules do not authorize filing submissions with the Secretary by facsimile or electronic means. Each document filed by a party participating in the remand investigations must be served on all other parties who may participate in the remand investigations (as identified by either the public of BPI service list), and a certificate of service
