k. Description of Request: The applicant proposes a temporary variance from the target water surface elevation requirements of Article 401 of the license for Hoot Diversion Dam reservoir (1,256.00 mean sea level). The licensee states that over the past several months, it had been unable to maintain the newly established target elevation at the Hoot Diversion Dam reservoir due to (1) unusually low inflow within the past year, requiring the licensee to cease hydropower operations at Hoot Lake in order to maintain minimum flow in the bypassed reach; and (2) the decommissioning of the Hoot Lake thermal plant on May 31, 2021, which previously drew approximately 200 cubic feet per second from Hoot Lake. With no outflow from Hoot Lake, the reservoir levels in Hoot Lake and the Hoot Diversion Dam reservoir equalized. The licensee lowered the elevation at Hoot Diversion Dam reservoir by approximately 1.6 feet in response to prevent the water level in Hoot Lake from rising above its maximum allowed elevation. The licensee has been consulting with Minnesota Department of Natural Resources to discuss possible engineering solutions to resolve the reservoir elevation issue. To allow time for the licensee to consult, design, and implement a solution, the licensee requests the variance extend until December 31, 2022.

k. Description of Filing: On September 21, 2022, Brookfield Power US Asset Management, LLC (Brookfield), on behalf of the affiliated licensees for the Shawmut (P–2322), Weston (P–2325), Lockwood (P–2574), and Hydro-Kennebec (P–2611) projects, filed supplemental information for the following pending items: (1) the January 31, 2020 Final License Application for the Shawmut Project; (2) the June 1, 2021 Interim Species Protection Plan (Interim Plan) for the Shawmut Project; and (3) the June 1, 2021 Final Species Protection Plan (Final Plan) for the Lockwood, Weston, and Hydro-Kennebec projects.

Brookfield states that, while conducting its analysis of the Final Plan, Interim Plan, and their associated Biological Assessments, the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) requested that Brookfield better address delayed mortality for salmon smolts passing downstream of the first receiver at each of the projects. Brookfield's filing contains that analysis. Further, Brookfield states that it and NMFS evaluated measures previously contemplated within the adaptive management provisions included as part of the Final Plan, Interim Plan, and relicensing proceeding, which could be implemented on an accelerated schedule to minimize and/or mitigate the effects of delayed mortality.

Based on these discussions, Brookfield now proposes to implement several measures from the adaptive management provisions proposed in the Final Plan to improve smolt survival during spill and through the fishways as well as reduce entrainment, as appropriate, for each of the specific projects. Brookfield states that it would implement these measures concurrently with, or in advance of, the other actions proposed in the Final Plan.

Similarly, as a supplement to the final license application for the Shawmut Project, Brookfield now proposes to add measures to reduce entrainment, provide safe downstream passage
