

may be obtained upon the conclusion of CFIUS review where there are no unresolved national security concerns. This is of considerable value to transaction parties, particularly those who have determined that filing a notice is appropriate given the circumstances of the transaction and the potential interest the Committee may have in the transaction if not notified. Finally, transaction parties can take advantage of the declaration process, which does not require a fee.

No additional comments were received. Therefore, the final rule adopts the interim rule as published.

III. Rulemaking Requirements

Executive Order 12866

This rule is not subject to the general requirements of Executive Order 12866, which covers review of regulations by the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs (OIRA) in the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), because it relates to a foreign affairs function of the United States, pursuant to section 3(d)(2) of that order. In addition, this rule is not subject to review under section 6(b) of Executive Order 12866 pursuant to section 7(c) of the April 11, 2018 Memorandum of Agreement between the Treasury Department and OMB, which states that CFIUS regulations are not subject to OMB's standard centralized review process under Executive Order 12866.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The collection of information contained in this rule was submitted to OMB for review along with the proposed rule, in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3507(d)) under control number 1505-0121.

The notice requirements in 31 CFR part 800 and 31 CFR part 802 were approved under the Paperwork Reduction Act with a per respondent burden of 130 hours and 116 burden hours, respectively. In the proposed rule establishing filing fees, the Treasury Department invited public comments with respect to the amended reporting requirements under §§ 800.502(c)(1)(viii) and 802.502(b)(1)(ix). No comments were received. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a valid OMB control number.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., RFA) generally requires an agency to prepare an initial regulatory flexibility analysis unless the agency certifies that the rule will not, once implemented, have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The RFA applies whenever an agency is required to publish a general notice of proposed rulemaking under section 553(b) of the Administrative Procedures Act (APA), or any other law. As set forth in the preamble to the proposed rule establishing filing fees at Section III, because rules issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act, such as this rule, are not subject to the APA or another law requiring the publication of a general notice of proposed rulemaking, the RFA does not apply. Nevertheless, for the reasons detailed in the RFA section of the proposed and interim rules, the Secretary of the Treasury certified that the rule, if implemented, "will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities," 5 U.S.C. 605(b). This final rule makes limited changes to interim rules already in effect that will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The Treasury Department also invited public comment on how the proposed rule would affect small entities.

Congressional Review Act

This rule has been submitted to OIRA which has determined that the rule is not a "major" rule under the Congressional Review Act.
