SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

On November 3, 2022, Commerce published in the Federal Register its Preliminary Determination in the LTFV investigation of preserved mushrooms from the Netherlands, in which it also postponed the final determination until March 20, 2023.¹ Commerce invited interested parties to comment on the Preliminary Determination.

For a complete description of the events that followed the Preliminary Determination, see the Issues and Decision Memorandum.² The Issues and Decision Memorandum is a public document and is available electronically via Enforcement and Compliance's Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Centralized Electronic Service System (ACCESS). ACCESS is available to registered users at <https://access.trade.gov>. In addition, a complete version of the Issues and Decision Memorandum can be accessed directly at <https://access.trade.gov/public/FRNoticesListLayout.aspx>.

Scope of the Investigation

The products covered by this investigation are preserved mushrooms from the Netherlands. For a complete description of the scope of this investigation, see Appendix I.

Verification

Commerce conducted verification of the information relied upon in making its final determination in this investigation, in accordance with section 782(i) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act). Specifically, Commerce conducted on-site verifications of the third-country sales, U.S. sales, and cost of production responses submitted by Prochamp B.V. (Prochamp).

Changes From the Preliminary Determination

We have made certain changes to the margin calculations for Prochamp since the Preliminary Determination. See the Issues and Decision Memorandum for a discussion of these changes.

Adverse Facts Available

As discussed in the Preliminary Determination, Commerce assigned an estimated weighted-average dumping margin on the basis of facts available with an adverse inference (AFA) to Okechamp B.V. (Okechamp) pursuant to sections 776(a) and (b) of the Act.³ There is no new information on the record that would cause us to revisit our decision in the Preliminary Determination. Accordingly, for this final determination, we continue to find that the application of AFA pursuant to sections 776(a) and (b) of the Act is warranted with respect to Okechamp.

In applying AFA, we are assigning the highest rate alleged in the petition as the estimated weighted-average dumping margin to Okechamp. Because this AFA rate is derived from the petition and, consequently, is based upon secondary information, Commerce must corroborate the rate to the extent practicable, pursuant to section 776(c) of the Act.

Because we calculated a zero percent margin for Prochamp, the sole mandatory respondent with a calculated an estimated weighted-average dumping margin in this investigation, and Prochamp's margin calculation does not otherwise provide transaction-specific dumping margins for the purposes of comparison, we are unable to corroborate the highest dumping margin alleged in the petition using information from a mandatory respondent in this investigation. Thus, for purposes of corroboration, we examined evidence supporting the calculations of the highest dumping margin alleged in the petition. As is Commerce's practice, during the LTFV investigation pre-initiation analysis, we examined: (1) the information used as the basis for export price and normal value in the petition; (2) the calculations used to derive the alleged margin; and (3) information from various independent sources
