FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[FR ID: 203613]

Privacy Act of 1974; System of Records

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Rescindment of a system of records notice.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 and Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular No. A-108, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) proposes to rescind the FCC/ OMD-7, FCC Transit Benefit and Parking Permit Programs, system of records. The FCC previously used information in this system to administer the transit benefit and parking permit programs for FCC employees. This information enabled the FCC to facilitate the timely processing of requests for parking permits, transit benefit subsidies, and other commuting arrangements, and related program, policies, and activities.

DATES: The rescindment will become effective 30 days after publication.

ADDRESSES: Comments can be submitted to Privacy@fcc.gov.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information please contact Brendan McTaggart at 202-418-1738 or Privacy@fcc.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Privacy Act provides that an agency may collect or maintain in its records only information about individuals that is relevant and necessary to accomplish a purpose that is required by a statute or executive order. The FCC has determined that the FCC/OMD-7, FCC Transit Benefit and Parking Permit Programs, system of records no longer meets this standard, because the FCC no longer administers the transit benefit and parking permit programs. The FCC transferred its transit subsidy program to the Department of Transportation's TRANServe program in 2018. All transit subsidy information has been deleted in accordance with National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) General Records Schedule (GRS) 2.4, Employee Compensation and Benefits Records (DAA-GRS-2016-0015-0017 and DAA-GRS-2016-0015-0018). The FCC transferred administration of the parking permit program to a private vendor in August 2023 and no longer maintains any records related to FCC employee parking. FCC-issued parking permits and related records have been destroyed in accordance with NARA GRS 5.6, Security Management Records (DAA-GRS-2021-0001-0006). Therefore, the FCC proposes to rescind FCC/OMD-7, FCC Transit Benefit and Parking Permit Programs.

SYSTEM NAME AND NUMBER:

FCC/OMD-7, FCC Transit Benefit and Parking Permit Programs.

HISTORY:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Purpose

The General Services Administration (GSA) routinely hires, reassigns, promotes and transfers Federal employees to duty stations in foreign areas (i.e., locations outside of the United States, its territories and possessions). For this staffing activity, GSA pays for the cost of relocation, known as “permanent change of station” relocation benefits (see further 5 U.S.C. 5722(a) and 5724(d)). Relocation benefits include the cost of travel and transportation, as well as the cost of shipment of household goods to a new post outside of the Continental United States. In addition, most overseas employees are eligible for “renewal agreement travel,” a travel reimbursement authority that allows agency to leverage funds to pay for periodic travel back to the United States between overseas tours of duty for paid time off, known as “home leave” (see further, 5 U.S.C. 5728(a) and 5 U.S.C. 6305(a)).

For an agency to calculate the costs of relocation as well as renewal agreement travel, both federal travel laws require that the employee (or appointee) designate an “actual place of residence.” When such residence cannot be easily determined by the job candidate, the agency must instead make an administrative residency determination on behalf of the employee. The new GSA Form 5047 will help agency representatives (i.e., human resources specialists) make a determination of the actual place of residence based upon documents and input provided by the job candidates, considered members of the public.

Typically, agencies use the definition of “residence” from the Immigration and Naturalization Act of 1952, codified at 5 U.S.C. 1101(33), which defines “residence” as a “place of general abode” or the “principal, actual dwelling place in fact, without regard to intent.” While for most employees (or appointees) the determination of an actual place of residence in the U.S. is typically straightforward, residency may be unclear if the appointee is already overseas and has been overseas for a long period of time. Long-term posts overseas are often characterized by the lease (or even sale) of the employee’s primary U.S. dwelling, changes in the declared U.S. voting registration location, and/or changes in the state and local income or property tax jurisdictions.

To more effectively administer permanent change of station relocation as well as renewal agreement travel, the General Services Administration (GSA) has created a new agency form, GSA Form 5047, Actual Place of Residence Determination. This form will allow employees, job candidates, and the agency’s human resources specialists, to more easily determine the actual place of residence by working through a series of guided questions on the form’s worksheet. Following completion of the form’s worksheet, the employee, candidate, and human resources specialist can summarize the determination on the form’s front cover sheet.

The questions on the worksheet portion of the form are drawn from governing administrative law authorities, primary Comptroller General decisions such as: Rafael Arroyo, decision B-197205 (May 16, 1980), decision B-157548 (Sept. 13, 1965), 45 Comp. Gen. 136, and decision B-140748 (Oct. 29, 1959), 39 Comp. Gen. 337. Under these administrative law authorities, the place of actual residence is established at the time of appointment or transfer (see also decision B-136029, June 24, 1958, 37 Comp. Gen. 846). Use of this form is therefore recommended for all overseas appointments, transfers or reassignments and, in particular, those personnel selections of job candidates via agency transfer employed by a different U.S. Government agency and already present overseas.

Use of this form will allow GSA to comply with the Federal Travel Regulations, which require the
