Description

Human remains representing, at minimum, two individuals were removed from Hamner Mounds, 23SA115, in Saline County, MO, four mounds on the bluff edge south of and overlooking the Missouri River. In June and July of 1970, Dr. Patricia J. O'Brien of Kansas State University conducted excavations of three of the mounds (Mounds 1, 2, and 3) with staff and students at the Great Plains Archaeological Field School. The resulting assemblage removed from the mounds were processed and cataloged by field school students during the field school then were taken to Kansas State University for analysis, reporting, and curation, where it has since remained. The human remains consist of two human teeth removed from separate mound excavations. One of the teeth is a maxillary first premolar from Mound 2, identified as from a 9-to-12 year-old subadult of indeterminate sex. The second tooth is fragmented pieces of crown, so no aging was possible. The 360 associated funerary objects are one lot debitage (approximately 4,859 pieces), 147 worked chert, 49 hematite, six limonite, 78 stone tools (16 points, three abraders, five gravers, three choppers, six hammerstones, eight biface, three spokeshaves, three hoe fragments, three scrapers, one polished quartzite slab, and 27 miscellaneous stone tools), 62 ceramic sherds, 13 miscellaneous animal bones, two rocks, one charcoal sample, and one soil core/sample.

There is a relationship of shared group identity between the identifiable earlier groups, tribes, peoples, or cultures and one or more Indian Tribes or Native Hawaiian organizations. The following types of information were used to reasonably trace the relationship: geographical and historical information.

- The 360 objects described in this notice are reasonably believed to have been placed with or near individual human remains at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony.
- There is a relationship of shared group identity that can be reasonably traced between the human remains and associated funerary objects described in this notice and The Osage Nation.

Repatriation of the human remains and associated funerary objects in this notice to a requestor may occur on or after March 18, 2024. If competing requests for repatriation are received, Kansas State University must determine the most appropriate requestor prior to repatriation.
