Title: Department of the Interior, Office of the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs, American Indian Population and Labor Force Report.

Brief Description of Collection: Public Law 102-477, the Indian Employment, Training, and Related Services Demonstration Act of 1992, mandates the Secretary to publish, not less than biennially, a report on the American Indian and Alaska Native population eligible for services by gender, income level, age, and availability for work. The process for collecting data has included the use of a paper data submission form with written instructions to be filled out by tribes and then certified at the tribal, agency, and regional level. The BIA believes that many of the reporting issues may be the result of misunderstanding of how to fill out this data submission form. The Office of Indian Energy and Economic Development has examined the data collection process and is hoping to address a truer depiction of tribal enrollment and BIA service population in Indian Country.

The Office of Indian Energy and Economic Development consulted with 5 of the 562 federally recognized tribal entities, ranging in membership less than 5,000 members to more than 250,000 members. The estimated time it took each tribe to respond to the biennial report was between one hour and four days, depending on the resources of the tribal government. It will take tribal representatives an estimated eight hours to complete the survey.

Number of Respondents: 562.

Estimated Time per Response: 8 hours.

Frequency of Responses: Biennially.

Total Annual Burden to Respondents: 5,000 hours biennially.

Total Annual Cost to Respondents: N/A.

Dated: September 5, 2008.

Sanjeev Bhagowalia.

Chief Information Officer—Indian Affairs.
