responses on January 7, 2022 and their replies on January 14, 2022.

Having examined the record of this investigation, including the ID, the petitions for review, responses, and other submissions from the parties and the public, the Commission has determined that no violation of section 337 has occurred. Specifically, the Commission finds that the asserted claims of the '186 and '564 patents are not infringed and the domestic industry products do not practice the claims of the '186 and '564 patents. The Commission also takes no position on various issues, as set forth in the accompanying Opinion, including on the economic prong of the domestic industry requirement, anticipation, obviousness, and whether the written description requirement is met for the claim terms "predetermined time" and "certificate." The Commission's determinations are explained more fully in the accompanying Opinion. All findings in the ID under review that are consistent with the Commission's determinations as set forth in the accompanying Opinion are affirmed.

The Commission vote for this determination took place on March 23, 2022.

The authority for the Commission's determination is contained in section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1337), and in Part 210 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (19 CFR part 210).

By order of the Commission.

Issued: March 23, 2022.

Lisa Barton,

Secretary to the Commission.
