

United States" (USITC Publication 3430, June 2001). The full report is available on the ITC website: http://www.usitc.gov/332s/332index.htm#SECTION 1205.

Background: In November 1999, the ITC opened investigation No. 1205-5, Proposed Modifications to the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States, in accordance with Section 1205 of the Omnibus Trade and Competitiveness Act of 1988. Under Section 1205, the ITC is charged with reviewing the HTS and recommending modifications when amendments are adopted by the World Customs Organization. The majority of current modifications to the tariff schedule are the result of sessions that took place between October 1993 and May 1999. Any changes to tariff rates are independent of the modification.

The following table provides an example of the HTSUS changes relating to FTZ Board Orders for oil refinery subzones. It is not inclusive.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

ITA provides numerous export promotion programs to help U.S. businesses. These programs include information products, services, and trade events. To accomplish its mission effectively, ITA needs ongoing feedback on its programs. These information collection items allow ITA to solicit clients opinions about the use of ITA products, services, and trade events. The information is used for program improvement, strategic planning, allocation of resources, and performance measures.

The surveys are part of ITAs effort to implement objectives of the National Performance Review (NPR) and Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA). Responses to the surveys will meet the needs of ITA performance measures based on NPR and GPRA guidelines. These performance measures will serve as a basis for justifying and allocating human and financial resources.

Survey responses will acquaint ITA managers with firms perceptions and assessments of export-assistance products and services. Also, the surveys will enable ITA to track the performance of overseas posts. This information is critical for improving the programs.

Survey responses are used to assess client satisfaction, determine priorities, and identify areas where service levels and benefits differ from client expectations. Clients benefit because the information is used to improve services provided to the public. Without this information, ITA is unable to systematically determine client perceptions about the quality and benefit of its export-promotion programs.

II. Method of Data Collection

ITA faxes, mails, emails or telephones surveys to clients and is developing electronic delivery and collection methods as well.

III. Data

IV. Request for Comments

Comments are invited on (a) whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information shall have practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden (including hours and costs) of the proposed collection of information; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or forms of information technology.

Comments submitted in response to this notice will be summarized and/or included in the request for OMB approval of this information collection; they also will become a matter of public record.

Dated: December 20, 2001.
