

(iii) Learn the nature of the investigation;

(iv) Learn whether they are only suspects or identified as law violators;

(v) Begin, continue, or resume illegal conduct upon learning that they are not identified in the system of records; or

(vi) Destroy evidence needed to prove the violation.

(6) 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4)(I) requires an agency to publish a general notice listing the categories of sources for information contained in a system of records. The application of this provision to the systems of records could compromise the Department's ability to complete or continue investigations or to provide useful information to law enforcement agencies, since revealing sources for the information could:

(i) Disclose investigative techniques and procedures;

(ii) Result in threats or reprisals against informers by the subjects of investigations; and

(iii) Cause informers to refuse to give full information to investigators for fear of having their identities as sources disclosed.

Currently, § 1.36 asserts exemptions for four systems of records pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(j)(2), (k)(2), and (k)(5). Three of those systems of records are being removed from the Department's inventory of Privacy Act systems of records. The remaining system of records, entitled "Treasury/ATF .008—Regulatory Enforcement Record System," will be maintained by TTB under the revised designation "Treasury/TTB .001—Regulatory Enforcement Record System" and will retain the exemption currently claimed for that system pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(2). Under 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(2), the head of an agency may promulgate rules to exempt a system of records from certain provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a if the system contains investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes.

This interim rule revises the relevant headings and tables in 31 CFR 1.36 to reflect the organizational changes made by the Homeland Security Act of 2002 and the resulting changes to the systems of records discussed above. Specifically, in paragraphs 1.36(c)(1)(ii), (g)(1)(ii), and (m)(1)(ii), the references to "Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms" are revised to read "Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau," and the tables in paragraphs (c)(1)(ii), listing "ATF .003 Criminal Investigation Report System," and (m)(1)(ii), listing "ATF .007 Personnel Record System," are removed in their entirety. Also, in the table in paragraph (g)(1)(ii), "ATF .008" is revised to read "TTB .001" and "ATF

.009 Technical and Scientific Services Record System" is being removed. In addition, we take this opportunity to correct two typographical errors by correcting "U.S.C. 552a" to read "5 U.S.C. 552a" at the beginning of paragraphs (h)(5) and (j)(5).

These regulations are being published as an interim final rule because the amendments contained therein do not impose any requirements on any member of the public. These amendments are the most efficient means for the Department to implement its internal requirements for complying with the Privacy Act. Accordingly, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B) and (d)(3), the Department finds good cause that prior notice and other public procedures with respect to this rule are unnecessary, and good cause for making this interim final rule effective 30 days after publication in the Federal Register.

Pursuant to Executive Order 12866, it has been determined that this interim final rule is not a significant regulatory action and, therefore, does not require a regulatory impact analysis.

Because no notice of proposed rulemaking is required, the provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601–612, do not apply.
