Section II. Covered Transactions

If the proposed exemption is granted, the restrictions of ERISA sections 406(a)(1)(A), 406(a)(1)(B), 406(a)(1)(E), and 407(a) shall not apply effective as of the date a final exemption is published in the Federal Register, to:

(a) The acquisition by the Retiree VEBA of: (1) the Note; (2) the Mortgage Lien; and (3) the Royalty Security to secure payment of the Note;

(b) the holding by the Retiree VEBA of the Note, Mortgage Lien, and Royalty Security; and

(c) the exercise by the Retiree VEBA of the rights granted under the Note, Mortgage Lien, and Royalty Security.

Section III. Conditions

(a) The terms of the Note, the Mortgage Lien and the Royalty Security are consistent with the terms of the Settlement Agreement that was approved by the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan on November 6, 2015, after the Court found the Settlement Agreement to be appropriate and fair to the Retiree VEBA.

(b) The Independent Members represent the Retiree VEBA for all purposes with respect to the Covered Transactions and ensure that each exemption condition is met consistent with their fiduciary duties under ERISA section 404;

(c) The Independent Members have sole and exclusive control over the Note, the Mortgage Lien, and the Royalty Security, in order to foreclose or realize on the Black Lake Property and the Royalty Security (collectively, the Collateral) upon an uncured default on the UAW's installment obligation.

(d) The UAW immediately assigns a first priority security interest to the Retiree VEBA equal to 30% of the Royalty Security received or receivable from time to time from the UAW's member credit card program, upon an uncured default on the UAW's installment payment obligation.

(e) If the UAW seeks to sell all or a portion of the Black Lake property, the Independent Members will not release the Retiree VEBA's Mortgage Lien on the Black Lake Property unless and until the UAW makes all the commitments necessary to allow the Independent

Members to conclude, consistent with their duties under ERISA section 404(a), that the sale of such property does not materially increase the risk borne by the Retiree VEBA. Such commitments may include the pre-payment of a portion of the installment payment obligation or the provision of alternative collateral.

(f) Any proceeds from the sale of the Black Lake Property by the UAW, or from the Royalty Security, as required by the Settlement Agreement and Security Agreement, during the period during which the UAW owes installment payments to the Retiree VEBA (and up to the total amount of indebtedness), must be immediately paid to the Retiree VEBA to offset the outstanding principal balance due under the Note.

(g) The UAW, through the UBC, remains responsible for the payment of all taxes levied or assessed with respect to the Black Lake Property, and the UAW, through the UBC, must maintain property insurance on the Black Lake Property at all times.

(h) All persons or entities who have or may acquire an interest in the Black Lake Property must have notice of and be bound by the terms of the Note. No party will be entitled to any rights thereunder without the written consent of the Retiree VEBA.

(i) The terms of the Note, Mortgage Lien, and Royalty Security may not be modified during the duration of the UAW's obligation to the Retiree VEBA.

(j) The Retiree VEBA must prudently develop written policies and procedures designed to ensure that the Independent Members prudently monitor the UAW's payment obligation to the Retiree VEBA, as well as the UAW's marketing and/or sale of all or a portion of the Black Lake Property.

(k) The Independent Members must engage a Qualified Independent Appraiser to value the Note, Mortgage Lien, and Royalty Security as soon as reasonably possible following the date the UAW defaults on its payment obligation and fails to correct such default, and as needed or as required thereafter as determined by the Independent Members consistent with their fiduciary duties under ERISA, with the fees of such Qualified Independent Appraiser to be paid by the Retiree VEBA.

(l) Annually on the first day after the date this exemption is granted, the Committee Chairperson must provide the Department with a signed certification attesting that the Independent Members monitored the Note, the Collateral, the Security Agreement, and the terms of this exemption consistent with their fiduciary duties under ERISA section 404. The first certification must include the written policies described in condition (j). The certification must be provided within 30 days after the end of the period to which it relates.

(m) In the event the UAW defaults on the Installment Payment Obligation the Committee Chairperson must submit a written report to the Department providing: (1) a certification that each condition of the exemption has been met; (2) a complete description of any foreclosure and liquidation transactions; (3) all documentation necessary to demonstrate that all relevant conditions applicable to the transaction(s) have been met; and (4) if the Retiree VEBA does not foreclose on the Collateral, a complete explanation of the Independent Members' rationale for not taking such action. The report must be submitted no later than 90 days following the date the UAW defaults on its Installment Payment Obligation.

Exemption date: If granted, this proposed exemption will be in effect on the date that the grant notice is published in the Federal Register.

Signed at Washington, DC, this 17th day of August, 2023.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Consumer Price Index (CPI) is a measure of the average change over time in the prices paid by consumers for a market basket of consumer goods and services. Each month, BLS data collectors called economic assistants, visit or call thousands of retail stores, service establishments, rental units, and doctors' offices, all over the United States to obtain information on the prices of the thousands of items used to track and measure price changes in the CPI. The collection of price data from retail establishments is essential for the timely and accurate calculation of the commodities and services component of the CPI. The CPI is then widely used as a measure of inflation, indicator of the effectiveness of government economic policy, deflator for other economic series, and as a means of adjusting dollar values. For additional substantive information about this ICR, see the related notice published in the Federal Register on April 3, 2023 (88 FRN 19678).

This information collection is subject to the PRA.
